

Improvisation Self Evaluation

Categories	1	2	3	4	5
Improvisation Practice	Did not participate in the improv. Did not speak.	Participated a little bit in the improv. Was quiet or inaudible.	Mostly participated in the improv. Had moments where the voice was nicely projected but was quiet or timid in other moments.	Participated in the improv. Projected the voice throughout.	Really shined during the performance, and showed a mature understanding of improv. Great voice and involved others.
Example of Practice
“Yes, and...” Mentality	Constantly said “no” to partners. Was not willing to participate in the improv.	Mostly said “no” to partners. Hesitant to participate in the improv.	Occasionally said “no” to partners. Mostly participated.	Displayed a strong “yes, and...” mentality. Participated.	Exuded a “yes, and...” mentality. Triumphantly participated. Encouraged others to open up.
Example of “Yes and”
Engagement with Improvisation	Did not display an understanding of the rules of the improv exercises. Was inappropriate. Mocked the performance.	Mostly did not understand the rules of the improv exercises. Was often inappropriate. Sometimes mocked the performance.	Occasionally did not understand the improv exercises. Sometimes inappropriate. Enjoyed the performance.	Understood the improv exercises. Was never inappropriate. Truly enjoyed the performance.	Displayed a clear understanding of all exercises. Was tasteful and clever, but never inappropriate. Clear and honest performance.
Example of Engagement
Collaboration	Did not seek or incorporate the advice of instructor or of improv partners. Rude, distracting, poor attitude.	Mostly did not seek or incorporate the advice of instructor or of improv partners. Often rude, distracting, or displayed a poor attitude.	Sought the advice of instructor and improv partners, and sometimes incorporated it into work. Was sometimes rude, distracting, or displayed a poor attitude.	Sought the advice of instructor and improv partners. Really worked as a member of a unit for a successful improv. Never rude or distracting. Good attitude.	Didn't need the advice of instructor. Worked seamlessly with improv partners.. Never rude or distracting. Great attitude.
Examples of Collaboration
Critical Feedback	Did not participate in feedback discussion, or made detrimental and unhelpful comments. No sign of intelligent discussion.	Hardly participated in feedback discussion. Unkind and/or unintelligent comments added to the discussion.	Somewhat participated in feedback discussion. Sometimes kind and constructive comments were added to the discussion.	Participated in feedback discussion. Kind, insightful, and constructive comments were made.	Dynamically participated in feedback discussion. Very kind and thoughtful comments were made.
Example of Feedback					